

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria.

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"Your preparation known as Castoria I have used for years in children's complaints and I have found nothing better." JOHN J. LEPPA, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.

"For several years I recommended your 'Castoria' and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results." EDWIN F. PARKER, M. D., New York City.

"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies." VICTOR H. COTTRELL, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy." A. F. FUELER, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, laxative effect and freedom from harm." EDWARD PARKER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments." J. A. PARKER, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

HILO CONVENTION LIVELY JUMBLE

Democrats Very Talkative But Order Came of Chaos.

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.)

HILO, September 22.—The Democratic County convention contrasted strikingly with that of the Republicans. At the latter everything went like clockwork. Matters had been well arranged before hand, and harmony was the keynote of the situation. Even the Home Rulers could easily give the Democrats cards and spades in the matter of conducting conventions. As a matter of fact, the fault did not lie with the officers of the convention, who did what they could to produce order, but the delegates themselves were not to be held back. Some of them plainly showed the effect of dalliance with Hebe, while others were drunken merely with the exuberance of their own verbosity. The latter were the worst obstructionists. They insisted on making every motion possible, making remarks on every occasion and tried to present as conspicuous figures as they could.

At 10 o'clock most of the delegates had gathered in the hall of the Osorio building opposite the postoffice. Chairman Irwin of the County Committee announced that the delegates should now go into caucus. At 2 p. m. the regular session would begin.

W. H. Heen wanted the committee on credentials appointed in order to hasten the work of the convention. Irwin replied that this could only be done after a temporary chairman had been appointed. Heen moved that a temporary chairman be appointed, as well as committees on credentials and rules, but Shipman pointed out that nothing could be done until 2 p. m. for which time the convention had been officially called. Shipman's views prevailed, and the delegates scattered.

At 2 p. m. Irwin called the convention to order, and called for the nomination of temporary officers. Heen nominated C. K. Maguire for temporary chairman, Kepoi nominated W. H. Johnson for temporary secretary and David Ewaliko for temporary interpreter. All three were elected without opposition. After a short speech in which he thanked the delegates for the honor conferred upon him, Chairman Maguire called on Rev. W. M. Kalaiala for prayer.

The following committee on credentials was appointed: D. Ewaliko, D. K. Simmons, Sol. Nafalelehu, H. S. Kane, M. C. de Mello, J. K. A'ala, T. K. Lalana, H. Kanaana and Wm. M. Kalaiala.

Irwin wanted the committee on platform and rules appointed at this time, but Shipman insisted that it could not be done until after the committee on credentials had reported.

After a recess, the committee reported, whereupon the chair on motion by Heen, appointed the following committees:

Committee on Platform—Harry Irwin, O. T. Shipman, Wm. Laeha, K. M. Kouhou and J. N. Kamoku.

Committee on Rules—W. H. Heen, Dr. Archer Irwin, Wm. M. Kalaiala, J. G. Andrews and J. A. M. Osorio.

Link Was There.

The evening session started with every one feeling in the best of humor. A string orchestra played hulas, the delegates had dined and were happy. Link McCandless smiled benignly on the assembled multitude, distributing campaign literature wherever he thought it would do the most good.

The report of the committee on rules was read, and a happy gentleman answering to the name of Aikaki voiced a strong objection to the provision in the report which called for a secret ballot. This called forth a most strenuous debate which in vigor and noise made up for what it at times lacked in intelligence. Kanoho took a hand, calling attention to the rule which required that only candidates and not delegates be pledged, and the wrangle slid off on a new tack. After much clamor the chair finally managed to put the motion to adopt the report, which was lost. A motion to adopt the report, except the portion thereof which required pledges from the delegates, then carried.

After the reading of the report of the committee on platform and the adoption of the platform, the following County Committee members were elected:

First District—1st Precinct, Geo. Kapaalana; 2nd Precinct, S. K. Makini; 3rd Precinct, B. Moanaka; 4th Precinct, D. Napeahi; 5th Precinct, D. Ewaliko; 6th Precinct, J. K. Kanaaloha; 7th Precinct, D. Puakela; 8th Precinct, Jas. Kawai; 9th Precinct, E. K. Simmons; 10th Precinct, none; 11th Precinct, none; 12th Precinct, D. K. Kaalimoku.

Second District—1st Precinct, none; 2nd Precinct, E. K. Kanehailua; 3rd Precinct, none; 4th Precinct, J. K. A'ala; 5th Precinct, J. Kaelemakule, Jr.; 6th Precinct, Wm. M. Kalaiala; 7th Precinct, M. C. de Mello; 8th Precinct, J. Kaopu; 9th Precinct, Keau; 10th Precinct, Geo. Andrews; 11th Precinct, W. H. Lalana; 12th Precinct, none.

The nomination of candidates came next, and as apparently next to nothing had been done in caucus by the Hilo delegations, a wild time ensued. There were candidates and to spare, and the use of the open vote added to the zest of the occasion.

There was no surplus of senatorial material, and D. E. Metzger, nominated as West Hawaii's man by Shipman, and E. H. Makaka, nominated for East Hawaii by Simmons, were declared nominated without opposition.

The delegation from West Hawaii had its state all put when it came to the nomination of candidates by the House, and the following are declared nominated without opposition: H. M. Kanoho from Kihala, Chas. K. from North Kona, M. C. de Mello from South Kona, and J. N. Kamoku from Kau. But the East Hawaii delegates had not made up their minds, and when it came to nominations of representatives candidates from that quarter pandemonium ensued. Nominations followed one another, tumbled over each other, were shouted from all over the hall. When the smoke cleared, it appeared that the following had received nominations: M. R. Kealawa from Puna, Wm. K. Campbell from South Hilo, J. M. Kouhou from Puna, S. Kalaiala from Puna, Heulu Namahoe from South Hilo, Jas. Kepoo from North Hilo, Wm. Kukaipua from South Hilo and T. K. Nalelehu from Hamakua.

Kouhou withdrew, and Kepoo was declared nominated for North Hilo and Nalelehu from Hamakua.

After a couple of false starts, the Puna and Hilo delegations finally voted, each delegate calling out his two favorites, Campbell and Kealawa were declared nominated, from South Hilo and Puna respectively, the vote resulting as follows:

Campbell, 22; Kealawa, 29; Kukaipua, 9; Namahoe, 7; Kalaiala, 5.

When nominations were called for for the office of Sheriff, Heen moved that the place be left blank. There were some cries of "Pua," but Heen's motion prevailed.

The chair called for nominations for County Attorney, and Heen took the floor after having been nominated by the West Hawaii crowd. In spite of the opinion of the Attorney General and of some journalists of Hilo, Heen said, he claimed that he was still eligible. However, his success as a candidate would depend on the attitude of the people, and as there still seemed to be some doubt as to his eligibility, he would nominate a man about whose eligibility there could be no question, namely Harry Irwin. Irwin was declared nominated without opposition.

Opposed Ewaliko.

A bit of a surprise was sprung when John Kakae appeared as a candidate for County Clerk against David Ewaliko. A lively member insisted on a secret ballot, but he was frowned down by Ewaliko, and the verbal vote was taken, resulting in a victory for Ewaliko by a vote of seventy to nine.

Chas. K. Maguire was nominated for Auditor, and George Richardson for Treasurer without opposition.

When it came to the nominations for supervisors, West Hawaii again showed its superiority in management to East Hawaii, by having its list of candidates ready and all arranged for. Joseph Hussey was nominated to represent Kohala, W. M. Kalaiala for Kona, and O. T. Shipman for Kau. All were nominated without opposition.

When it came to the turn of East Hawaii, the Puna delegation asked to have its place left blank, and Hamakua selected Joe Perez, who was nominated forthwith. Hilo as usual had trouble. Dr. Archer Irwin, Keoki, Wm. Laeha, W. J. Johnson, Napeahi and H. B. Nallum all being nominated. Irwin and Keoki were nominated, the vote standing as follows:

Irwin 23; Keoki, 24; Johnson, 16; Laeha, 9; Napeahi, 13; Nallum, 2.

The chair called upon the candidates to come forth and take the pledge, when foxy Matekaka, who had already been nominated by the Home Rulers, asked whether the Democrats had nominated or endorsed him. He was told that he had been endorsed by them, and he immediately pointed out that under the rules only the candidates who had been nominated had to take the pledge. His point was found to be in order, and the clever manipulator escaped binding himself. The rest were pledged whereupon the convention was formally adjourned.

For Sam Pua.

After the adjournment, Kanoho made a speech at the close of which he called upon the fusion delegates to declare themselves for Sam Pua for Sheriff. This they did by rising as a man, and the majority of the rest of the delegates followed suit.

The Woman Without a Man

SHE IS WELCOME EVERYWHERE NOWADAYS.

WOMEN will soon be able to enjoy life without depending on men," remarked a suffragist recently, and from perhaps another point of view it would seem that the stronger sex is not so much in demand as formerly.

As an escort he is not nearly so necessary as formerly.

Time was when if a woman was popular and fond of society, while her husband was not, she had to stay at home and control her longings for a social atmosphere as best she might. Now if the woman is the more attractive and popular of the two she is often invited without her husband, and this treatment causes the husband to "wake up" and make himself a little more socially desirable.

Not so very long ago the married woman looked down with pity upon her unmarried friend as she gave entertainments and went to balls and theater parties and had a good time generally while the unmarried one

A Gypsy Marriage

CERTAINLY a gypsy marriage is ideal at this time of the year, for the happy bride and groom after a simple ceremony depart in their caravan, cheered by the rest of the tribe, and wander leisurely down the long road and through the green forest, stopping when they feel like it and going on when the place calls on them. Who wouldn't be a gypsy during the summer time?

WINNING TEAMS IN NATIONAL SHOOTING

Colonel Evans Named Prize Winners in Camp Perry Contests.

Colonel R. K. Evans, 28th Infantry, the executive officer of the national rifle competition at Camp Perry in August, has issued the following list of the prize-winning teams in the national match for 1910:

Class A.—First prize, U. S. Infantry, the National Trophy, $450 in cash and to each member of the winning team a bronze medal.

Second prize, U. S. Cavalry, $350 in cash, and to each member of the winning team a bronze medal.

Third prize, State of Iowa, $300 in cash, and to each member of the winning team a bronze medal.

Fourth prize, U. S. Navy, $250 in cash, and to each member of the winning team a bronze medal.

Class B.—First prize, U. S. Naval Academy, the Hilton Trophy, $350 in cash, and to each member of the winning team a bronze medal.

Second prize, State of Colorado, $250 in cash, and to each member of the winning team a bronze medal.

Third prize, State of Michigan, $225 in cash, and to each member of the winning team a bronze medal.

Fourth prize, State of Minnesota, $200 in cash, and to each member of the winning team a bronze medal.

Medals for Class B to be of different design from those for Class A.

Class C.—First prize, State of stayed at home. New things have grown so much in the favor of the single woman that her married friend often envies her liberty, her youthful appearance, caused by the absence of household cares, and, above all, her income, which she can spend as she will without asking any one's permission. And indeed there are worse things than being a bachelor girl nowadays. Women are firmly established in the business world, and they are beginning to be paid large salaries, which would satisfy many a man. They can go almost anywhere without an escort—to the theater, to dinner at many of the restaurants and to nearly every kind of evening affair.

The prosperous, clever bachelor girl is in as great demand as the bachelor man for week ends. She is much more entertaining than the stay at home girl, and her bright ways and smart costumes make her a dangerous rival for the married girl, who has had things her way for so long.

Last and not least, she is able to lay aside money for her old age, which many a married woman worries over, and perhaps buy a home in the country which may be hers, no matter what befalls.

Bridge Frock

A VERY effective gown for card parties is this creation of black and silver. It is relieved by the application of jet. The two flounced skirts is especially good.

JEALOUS OF HIS MOTHER.

Some jealousy is assuredly inseparable from love, but there are forms that are quite inexcusable and ridiculous. One is the jealousy sometimes felt by a betrothed girl of her fiancé's mother and sisters.

Instead of being hurt and jealous of the love and attention he lavishes upon them a man's sweetheart should rest happily in the knowledge that her own future is assured.

Girls are so foolishly unaware of how passing a phase is a lover's passionate adoration. Six months after marriage the wife and mother are on a par.

If then he is kind, considerate and unselfishly devoted to his mother a girl may be very sure that her lover will prove as kind, considerate and devoted a husband as he is a son.

Kansas, the Bronze Soldier of Marathon, $300 in cash, and to each member of the winning team a bronze medal.

Second prize, Territory of Arizona, $200 in cash, and to each member of the winning team a bronze medal.

Third prize, State of Utah, $175 in cash, and to each member of the winning team a bronze medal.

Fourth prize, State of North Dakota, $150 in cash, and to each member of the winning team a bronze medal.

Medals for Class C to be of different design from those for either Class A or Class B.
